Q: Why do bristles fall out of my brush?

A: Don't be surprised when your new brush loses a few bristles. This is common in fuller brushes like powder brushes. When the brush is made, some of the shorter hairs do not get glued with the rest in the ferrule. Swirl your new brush around in the palm of your hand to dislodge any stray bristles.

Q: How do I clean my make up brushes?

A: Wet the bristles under warm running water, then saturate the bristles with Look&Feel's 100% natural cleansing solution. Massage the bristles and then rinse thoroughly. Lay flat to dry. Sometimes a second process is necessary for heavily loaded brushes. Clean your brushes often to avoid buildup of oil, bacteria and product.

#LNF7 Lip Liner Brush

#LNF6 Lip Brush

$18 Apply the right amount of color with this soft, springy brush. The "cats" tongue shape comes to a precise point, which is perfect for detailing. The broader side is good for shading in lipstick, lip color or gloss.
